Ancestry of Terry J. Trimble

Entries: 14103 Updated: Sun Nov 17 15:03:10 2002

Contact: Terry Joe Trimble 70773,1714@compuserve.com

- ID: I00358
- Name: John HUFFSTUTTER ¹
- Sex: M
- Birth: 23 DEC 1826 in Harrison Co., Indiana ^{2 3}
- Death: 19 NOV 1900 in Elbridge, Obion Co., Tennessee
- Burial: 19 NOV 1900 Oak Ridge Cemetery
- Note:

See notes: Lewis HUFFSTUTTER. Artillary short sword 1833 model. Pistols were probably photo props. Belt plates appear Confederate but cannot be certain. The uniform taken as a whole, however, can be ascertained to be Confederate.

His family gave the building site for the Church of Christ and for the Huffstutter Cemetery next to it (at Oak Ridge). He and Hannah are buried under the big cedar tree. His epitaph says, "Asleep in Jesus. Oh how sweet".

DOB shows b. Kentucky 9/1826 in 1900 census.

1880 census, Cravens School House, Obion Co., TN pg 150C gives the following:

III. Results

The first part of the results section discusses the general findings of the study, while the second part provides a detailed analysis of the data. The results show that the model is able to capture the relationship between the variables of interest.

The findings suggest that the model is well-specified

Summary of data trends and analysis.

The data shows a clear upward trend across all categories, with values increasing from 10 to 195. The distribution is relatively uniform, with each category contributing approximately 10% to the total range.

Key observations include:

- Category A shows a steady increase from 10 to 145.
- Category B shows a steady increase from 150 to 195.
- The overall range of the data is 190 units (195 - 5).

Conclusion: The data is consistent and follows a predictable pattern, suggesting a controlled environment or a specific process being monitored.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will be published and packaged with that set of discs. With the publication of every 25 discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that volume of discs. Discs may be purchased as sets or volumes.

Please Note:

Submitter information is provided to help in the coordination of personal family history research. Use of this information for any other purpose, including marketing, advertising, or commercial solicitation, is strictly prohibited.

TH

EARL VOYLES, a resident of Canaan, Ind. since 1965, died Tuesday, Dec. 30, 2008, 8:08 a.m., at The Water's of Clifty Falls in Madison, Ind. Earl entered this life on May 9, 1918, in Ramsey, Ind., the son of William R. and Laura Routh Voyles, both of whom preceded him in death. He was raised in Ramsey, later moving to Scott County, Ind. He was employed with Scott County Stone Company for 45 years and had worked his way up through the company to Vice President. He is survived by his wife, Mary Bette; sons, Leslie Earl "Sonny" Voyles Jr. (wife, Kaye) of Fort Wayne and Billy Voyles of Scottsburg, Ind.; stepson, Donn Voyles (wife, Joy) of Columbus, Ind.; stepdaughter, Patty Rohm (husband, Jim) of Madison, Ind.; his grandchildren, Stephanie Severn (husband, Bro. George), Sherrie Voyles (companion, Jeanette Schrand), Stacie Zurawski (husband, Jim); and six great-grandchildren. He was also preceded in death by his stepdaughter, Janet L. McDaniel, on July 2, 2006; and his sisters, Gilie Jackson, Verna Bates and Glenn Pavey. Funeral service is 11 a.m. Saturday at Morgan & Nay Funeral Centre, 325 Demaree Drive, Madison, Ind., with visitation two hours prior. Visitation also from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday at the funeral home. Memorials to King's Daughters' Home Health. Cards available at the funeral home. Online condolences may be sent to www.morgan-nay.com

The log cabin of David Voyles as it was in August of 2009. The Voyles Reunion group took a tour of Voyles places and visited here. Would it have had a front porch in the day of David and Barbara? It might have. We see most of the log cabins in the Appalachian mountains with front porches. This cabin is located in Howard Township, Washington County, IN. While there you can visit the David Voyles Cemetery on the same property.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for transparency and accountability, particularly in financial matters. The text suggests that organizations should implement robust systems to track income, expenses, and assets, ensuring that all data is up-to-date and easily accessible.

2. The second section focuses on the role of internal controls in preventing fraud and errors. It outlines various measures that can be taken, such as segregation of duties, regular audits, and the use of standardized procedures. The document stresses that these controls are not just for compliance but are also vital for the long-term health and stability of the organization.

3. The third part of the document addresses the challenges of managing a large and diverse workforce. It discusses the importance of clear communication, effective leadership, and the ability to adapt to changing circumstances. The text provides practical advice on how to foster a positive work environment, encourage innovation, and ensure that all team members are aligned with the organization's goals.

4. The fourth section explores the impact of technology on modern business operations. It highlights the benefits of automation, data analytics, and digital communication tools, while also acknowledging the potential risks and challenges associated with their use. The document encourages organizations to embrace technology as a means to improve efficiency and gain a competitive edge.

5. The final part of the document discusses the importance of sustainability and corporate social responsibility (CSR). It argues that businesses have a responsibility to their stakeholders beyond just providing products and services. The text suggests that integrating CSR into the core business strategy can lead to long-term success and a positive reputation in the market.

July 27th 1895 Roland Voyles obit Mt olive Herald

Roland Voyles, the oldest resident in Mt. olive township, died tuesday morning at 9 oclock at his home, one and a half miles south-west of mt olive, aged 79 years 5 mounths and 26 days.

There were but few if any residents of the county better known than Roland Voyles. He came to this county 54 years ago when there was not another inhabitant with whom to neighbor and when the tall wild weeds covered the ground nnow beenpied by Mt olive. The history of Mr Voyles would make a volume, as experience was varied and his early life was made up adventures of an interesting nature. He came here from the southern states and settled on the farm where he lived nd died. He married Susan Boyd a Dugther of one of the old settlers, and by this union twelve children were reared. five whom are dead, the mother having died 16 years ago. The balance of the family are residents of this county. of the family there were five girls and seven boys. Elevn years ago he was married to his present wife.

Deceased was a man of strong constition capable of enduring all the hardship following out the life of early settlers and to thrive by persistant effort in the fce of adversity. The past few years, age had told on him much anoyance, while he was more or less botherd with hart trouble, witch eventually carried him away after three mounths continuos illness.

He was of french descent and had a mein witch made him an agreeable and pleasant compainion, with a meomery of the past witch gave him a store house of knowlage that would intrest anyone desrous of hearing the details of the ups and downs of early life.

His funreral was held from the family residence Wednesday afternoon and his remains were interred at the chapman cemetery west if this city. A large concourse of neighbors and freinds paid therelast respects by their presnece and extend there sympathy to the bereaved relatives in the affliction.

This was my great grand mothers grandfather.

Article 3

In 1609, the Catholic lands in northern Ireland were appropriated by King James of England as a result of the Irish Rebellion, partially for political reasons, but largely because of religious differences. This conflict between the two groups has continued to the present time.

This land was then leased to large landlords who brought in immigrants to farm them. Many of these people were from Scotland, and in time, they became known as the Scotch-Irish. However, by about 1720-1725, the farm land had become so depleted, the rents so high, and the general living conditions so poor that many of these people began to emigrate to America. This emigration reaches its peak about 1725 and over 10,000 reached our shores in each of the succeeding five years. Most of these people entered the country at the port of Philadelphia and settled in Pennsylvania. At that time there was a dispute over the boundary between Maryland and Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania authorities encouraged the Scotch-Irish to settle near the border thinking that their well known "aggressiveness" might help maintain the status quo. However, they became too aggressive and pushed westward onto lands still claimed by the Indians. This caused problems, and about 1745, the Scotch-Irish were asked to leave the state, which they did, many of them going to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia which was just then being opened for settlement.

In the early part of the 18th century, southern Germany had been so overrun by war, famine, and disease to such an extent that life there became unbearable for many of the inhabitants. The Palatinate and the Upper Rhine were areas from which the inhabitants moved out in great numbers. In fact, there were so many immigrants from this section of the country that they became known as "Palatines".

Philadelphia was the port of entry for the great majority of these German refugees. In fact, they came in such numbers that a law was passed requiring each immigrant to register and to take an oath of allegiance to the King of England. Many of these lists have been preserved, and any having German ancestors should have little trouble finding out when they arrived in the United States.

Many of these German families remained in Pennsylvania, but about 1756, a large number migrated to Rowan County, N.C., where they formed a German settlement on the Yadkin River about seven miles south of the present City of Lexington.

Rhe Boone family lived in Linville Creek in what is now Rockingham County, Virginia, where Daniel married. However, at a later date, the family also moved to Rowan County and settled on the Yadkin about 15 miles above the German settlement already mentioned. It was from here that Daniel Boone began his explorations into the bluegrass regions of Kentucky. About 1803, he followed his brother, Squire Boone, who pushed on northward, crossed the Ohio and settled about four miles northeast of Mauckport, Indiana at the present site of Squire Boone Caverns. Squire had five sons, all with biblical names, and they, together with George Bartley, built the Old Goshen Church, the oldest church in Harrison County, Indiana.

No doubt the preceding historical information was a factor for the immigration of our ancestors to the United States of America.

Note: This material of history is taken from information compiled by Martha Jean Wolfe, descended from Joseph Voyles and Elizabeth Townsend. Joseph was oldest son of William Voyles and Hannah Rhodesia Bundy. Jean Feiock states "We are descended from David and Barbara Endy. David was the 7th child born to William."

From the History of the United States by John Clark Ridpath 1883

Concerning Marion and his men:

By such means the authority of Great Britain was re-established over South Carolina. As soon as the work was done, Clinton and Arbuthnot, with about half of the British army, sailed for New York. Cornwallis was left with the remainder to hold the conquered territory; for it was the territory, not the people, that were conquered. In this condition of affairs, two daring patriot leaders arose to rescue the republican cause. These men, ever afterward famous, were Thomas Sumpter and Francis Marion. Under their leadership the militia in the central and Western portions of the state, especially on the upper tributaries of the Broad River, were rallied, armed and mounted. An audacious partisan warfare was begun, and exposed detachments of the British Army were swept off as though the enemy had fallen on them from the skies. At Rocky Mount, on the Wateree, Colonel Sumpter burst upon a party of dragoons, who barely saved themselves. On the 6th of August he attacked a large detachment of regulars and Tories at Hanging Rock, in Lancaster County, defeated them and retreated. It was in this battle that young Andrew Jackson began his career as a soldier.

The exploits of Sumpter were even surpassed by those of Marion. His company consisted first of 20 men and boys, half clad and poorly armed. But the number constantly increased and the "Ragged Regiment" soon became a terror to the enemy. Every British outpost was in peril! There was no telling when or where the sword of the fearless leader would fall. From the swamps at midnight he and his men would suddenly dart upon the encampments of the enemy, sweeping everything before them. When the British expected Marion in front, he would assail them from the rear with the most fury and then disappear. When they thought him hovering on their flank, he was a hundred miles away. During the whole summer and autumn of 1780 he swept around Cornwallis's positions, cutting his lines of communication and making incessant onsets with an audacity as destructive as it was provoking. In the midst of this wild and lawless warfare, Marion preserved an unblemished reputation. Fifteen years afterward, when he lay on his deathbed, he declared that he had never intentionally wronged any man and it was truthfully written on his monument that he lived without fear and died without reproach.

Article 2

Francis Marion, American soldier, was born near Georgetown, S.C. in 1732. At the beginning of the Revolution, he devoted himself to raising troops in South Carolina, and became a captain in Colonel Moultrie's regiment in 1775. For some time, he was stationed at Ft. Moultrie, and in 1780, was commissioned brigadier-general of state troops. Although his soldiers were poorly equipped, they defeated the British at Nelson's Ferry, recapturing many of the prisoners taken at Camden, and were an effective hindrance to Cornwallis by intercepting communications and capturing British scouts. As a band of guerrilla, Marion's Brigade became famous for its daring and success against the British. In its sudden attacks and in its personnel and good marksmanship, it was similar to John Morgan's Raiders of the Civil War. Using swamp paths to elude the enemy, the band, with Marion always the leader in daring and skill, on several occasions united with the Army under Greene against Cornwallis. They were not disbanded until after the British evacuation in 1782.

From 1782 to 1790, Marion served in the South Carolina Senate, and from 1790 to 1795, as commander of Ft. Johnson. Marion died at Pond Bluff, South Carolina, on February 27, 1795.

Note: William Voyles was under the command of General Marion.

The Primitive or "Hardshell Baptists" represent the Calvinistic or even hyper-Calvinistic wing of Baptist denominations. They came to the mountains relatively early. Disagreements over missions, Bible societies, and seminaries led to the beginning of the Primitive Baptist movement in North Carolina in 1827. The initial division was followed by numerous splits over the nature of predestination, new birth, music, offerings, and other issues. Their church life is characterized by local autonomy with some loose-knit associational and national organization. It reflects little of the elaborate structure of Southern Baptist denominationalism. Like other Baptists they stress the authority of the scripture, the importance of baptismal immersion and congregational polity. Beyond these basic similarities the Primitive Baptists part company with most other evangelical Baptists. For the Primitive Baptists, God is sovereign and His ways "past finding out".

Salvation, therefore, is completely the work of God's grace. Sinful human beings can do nothing to facilitate their salvation. Men and women by nature are unconcerned about redemption and incapable of discovering God for themselves. For Primitive Baptists, the doctrine of election means that God has chosen some individuals for salvation, while others have not received grace or have received election to damnation. How and when predestination of the elect occurred is a matter of debate among Baptists and other Calvinistic groups.

Some supralapsarian Primitive Baptists believe that even before the fall of Adam, God had elected some persons to salvation and some persons to salvation and others to damnation. Thus, he caused the fall in order that He might save the elect. Others, who might be called infralapsarian believe that God elected individuals only after the fall.

Whatever, the terms of the process, neither the elect or the damned have any reason to boast or complain, as salvation lies solely with God. The elect are saved only by grace, unconditionally, and not on the basis of any good they do or any gifts they exhibit. The damned are totally depraved and thus, deserve nothing but damnation. God's Sovereignty, His decision to save some and damn others, is beyond human comprehension. Christ's death, therefore, was efficacious only for the elect, not for the entire race. This hyperCalvinism is a far cry from the doctrines of the 16th (or 16th century) reformer of Geneva, John Calvin, but it has greatly influenced the life and practice of Primitive Baptist churches.

Unlike most other Baptist groups, Primitive Baptists are not aggressively evangelistic. They preach the gospel of election and redemption in their churches, but believe that God in His good time will awaken all the elect to salvation. They hesitate to preach revivals or evangelistic meetings calling for conversion, and prefer to allow the sovereign God to save whom He will.

Primitives believe the church to be the fellowship of the elect, the community of faith. They usually practice foot washing, along with baptism and the Supper, as ordinances of the church.

Primitives keep ecclesiastical organization to a minimum. They seldom take offerings and have few paid clergy. Preachers work at secular vocations and serve congregations on Sunday. Many of the churches have no Sunday School or other services beyond preaching and worship. The uses of organs, pianos, or other musical instruments is frowned upon in many of the churches.

THE HUGUENOTS

The term applied to French Protestants of the reformed or Calvinistic communion. The term was originally applied as a nickname and as an epithet of reproach, denoting foreign heretics residing in France. The precise etymology is obscure, and there are more than a dozen hypotheses extant as to the derivation of the name. The Huguenots in France corresponded very closely in manners and thought to the Puritans of England. They were noted for the austerity of their lives and for the purity and severity of their moral precepts. Although they suffered persecution during the reigns of Francis I and his successors, they were powerful enough to resist, and for several generations after 1562 were frequently at war with the Catholics. The Huguenots belonged chiefly to the smaller nobility, but their leaders were from the first families of France, such as Admiral Coligny and the King of Navarre, afterwards Henry IV of France. One of their severest reverses was the infamous Massacre of St. Bartholomew, which took place on August 24, 1572. Henry IV in 1598 issued the famous Edict of Nantes that secured to the Huguenots full political, civil and religious rights and the privilege of garrisoning certain fortresses. They grew in numbers, in prosperity and in influence until their political power was attacked by Richelieu in 1626 and crushed with the capture of LaRochele, in 1628. Their misfortunes culminated in the revocation of the Edict of Nantes by Louis XIV in 1685. Severe persecutions forced multitudes of Huguenots to flee to the various Protestant countries of Europe; many of them braved the dangers of the New World, settling in South Carolina and elsewhere along the Atlantic Seaboard.

According to a record possessed by Katheryn Simpson, the Voils family were some of the people who left France with the Huguenots and went to Wales seeking religious freedom. They had been involved in the textile industry in France, particularly in the manufacture of a thin material called "voil"; hence, the name, Voils.

In 1759, Jacob Voils, his wife*, and 4 sons came to America from Wales.

* A comment at the bottom of this page notes another "paper" that states no mention of a wife and is presumed she died in Wales before the family left there.

Rudolph Miller, Sr.

Notes

Possible 1840 Census for Rudolph: Washington County, Mari. Twp#270.

It would appear that the family came from Germany between 1835 and 1841 when grandson Jacob was reported to have been born in Washington County. Both Rudolph, Jr. and Julia were reported to have been born in Germany. Julia born 1835. (Rudolph, Julia, and Jacob children of Henry and Elizabeth)

Handwritten family history says that the great grandparents were born in West Phalia, Germany, Lengrich and came to Indiana in 1830. They brought with them 2 sons, Henry and Jacob, and 2 girls was theirs.....?? Probably Catherine and Elizabeth. All came from Germany.

We have a Henry Miller of Harrison County, IN, who purchased by original land patent, 40 acres in Harrison County (I think, but should check as it might be Washington Co.) on September 25, 1835, description: North East 1/4 of South West quarter, Section 14, Township 3-5, Range 4 East.

Also 80 acres, on September 25, 1835, description: West 1/2 of the South West quarter, Section 14, Township 3-5, Range 4 East. Both purchased at Jeffersonville, IN. Signed by Andrew Jackson.

This may not be the same Henry Miller or he might have purchased other land later as we find on the Plat Map of 1860 Henry has 170 acres in Jackson Township, Washington Co., IN. That appears to be in Township 1 Section 7 South East quarter of Section 7 with a strip of land in Section 8 adjoining.

J. Miller has 133 acres as the South East quarter of Section 8

In 1878 Henry still had 80 acres listed in his estate and Rudolph, his son, had 40 acresthe west half of the south east quarter minus enough for the steam mill which apparently had belonged to the Shepperd family on both maps. Then Rudolph also owns 80 acres which would be north of the original land in Section 7 the north east half of the north east quarter.....that parcel had belonged to Addison Simpson in 1860. Rudolph married his daughter.

Washington Township is listed as Township 1.

3 Times in the Miller Cemetery burial records we find that Henry is called Henry "G" Miller.

Henry G. Miller, born 1805, died January 31, 1875, husband of Catherine Elizabeth Boley no father given no stone erected

On the inscription list of Henry's son Jacob, we find the father's name listed as Henry David Sr. so not quite sure if this is an error or what. Being from Germany it isn't unusual to have 4 or 5 names in your name. Note that the son was called Henry David Miller.

Notes

Elizabeth's name may be spelled Boley, Bolle, or Bola. Have seen it written all these ways.

From Lena Sappenfield: "Our Grandma's name was Elizabeth Boley. She married my grandfather in Germany. Very few of her folks came over to the U.S.A. She had a half-sister named Kipp. They lived south of Galene, Indiana. Their oldest daughter Mary married John Morgan of Fredricksburg. They had five or six children, Ella, Effie, Florence, Fanny and Herb. Our grandmother had a brother named Ebert Boley.

If Elizabeth Boley married Henry Miller in Germany, and Rudolph Miller was born in Germany, then that means they could not have come to the United States before 1833. The family genealogy says that Julia was also born in Prussia and that by 1841 they were in Washington County, IN. So they must have come to the US between 1836 and 1841.

Other Boleys were in the same vicinity and may have been some relation to Elizabeth although they had immigrated earlier from the dates to the US.

Issac Boley b. February 9, 1780 in Virginia, died 1860 in Howard Twp., Washington Co., IN His son, Henry, b. October 9, 1809, in Lincoln County, Kentucky and he had a daughter, Elizabeth Boley, born 1851 in Harrison Co., IN (next to Wash. Co.)

Would appear that there were Boleys in Floyd County, IN.....Edward and in Virginia.....Johy Boley and Rebecca Rector and they also had an Elizabeth.

These are just possible relatives, as our Elizabeth Boley had been married in Germany and had the first two children there.

From the History of Lawrence, Orange and Washington Counties, Indiana, copyright 1884. Goodspeed Brothers and Co., Chicago:

JACOB MILLER, (deceased) a prominent citizen of Jackson Township, was born in Germany, on the 5th of August 1818, being the youngest of a family of 6 children born to Rudolph and Elizabeth Miller. His ancestors were natives of Germany from whence they immigrated to the United States about 1850.....(This is probably an error in date as they were here before that time)..... settling in Washington County, IN. The subject of this sketch by his energy succeeded in securing a good, practical education. On the 20th of April, 1855, his marriage with Sophia Katerheimy, was solemnized and to this union were born 7 children, five of whom are now living:

Rudolph, Augustus H., Caroline E., Christina M. (dead), Frederick W., Sophia L., and infant son (deceased).

In politics he was a Democrat and took deep interest in the political questions of his day. By occupation he was formerly a miuller, but during the most of his life was engaged in farming. In his business he was very successful. He was a member of the Lutheran Church, and always contributed liberally to the support of all church and charitable causes. On the 10th of April, 1883, the family suffered the irreparable loss of a loving father and an affectionate husband. His death was a severe blow to society at large, as he was always ready to extend a helping hand to those in need.

The Miller Cemetery of which we all wanted to visit in June of 2004, but were warned not to because of the condition of the field surrounding it, and that there were snakes that might give us some problems, was located in Section 8 of Washington Township. It was on the farm of Jacob Miller, Rudolph's brother. Jacob was called the youngest of 6 children.

From the family history sent by Ilene Gillen: Grandpa Rudolph was a mild mannered man like Grandma Hattie, but Grandma Amanda was quick on the trigger and spicy like Aunt Helen. Rudolph always raised a lot of plants and flowers, got a lot of seed catalogs. Aunt Sadie remembered him sitting by the fireplace or south window in the living room looking at the catalogs. In the fall he would build a pit for his plants for winter. People would come to him for funeral flowers, etc. Sadie remembered that he worked with trees, etc., came up with a seedless persimmon tree. He raised ginseng (looked about like grape vines), used for medicinal purposes. He willed his ginseng patch to Johnson, his oldest son. He died of stomach cancer. Aunt Sadie remembers they put pennies on his eye lids to keep them closed.

In a letter from Blanch Dooley she mentioned that when she went to the cemetery to look at the gravestones, they had to go through the fields and woods to get there. Then she noted that 2 of the children had died within 2 weeks of one another.

This does appear to be the correct family. Family history says they had 11 children. At this time the eldest, Roy, is in a home of his own and there are 10 children in the home. After seeing the census above I added the name of Laura Miller as a daughter. The information I had previously indicated that Laura was married to "Daisy". The census above indicates that they are both females and daughters.

Also a discrepancy with George B. Miller at age 3. We have a "Raymon" in the family line, so suppose he might have been George and called "Raymon" for some unknown reason. Most of the children were given names in the family history that were more like nicknames than formal names.

We find this following information in the Cemetery book of Pierce Township, Washington Co., IN Old Blue River Cemetery records: (Lot 21)

Lewis Phillipi Miller, born April 28, 1846, died March 23, 1908; son of Henry and Elizabeth Boley Miller.

Lewis is buried there with wife "Emily Jane" and dau. Rosa and Mary E.

Notes

I don't have much information on the wife of Louis/Lewis Miller. Our family history calls her Emma Kepley. Burial records in Martinsburg would indicate that Lewis Miller married Emily Rickard as does the marriage records. Two of the children seem to be possibly the same, but cannot be sure.

Information on Emma Kepley (may not be this one) says this:

Emma Kepley, born July 12, 1851, died March 11, 1923
father was George Kepley, Jr. born Feb. 23, 1818 mother was Phoebe Waltz, born 1818 to 1822 in Floyd Co., IN

Emma Kepley, born July 1879 in Pierce Township, Washington Co., IN father was William Kepley, born May 7, 1836 mother was Catherine Hamilton, or Catherine Elizabeth Overton, born about 1845

The first one would be in the right age bracket to marry this Lewis.
In the information on line there are no marriages listed.

There is one more Emma Kepley born about 1853
no parents listed married Jacob Murphy, born in New Albany, Floyd Co., IN on July 24, 1870 in Floyd Co.
In the 1880 census as Jacob, 36, Emma 27, in Campbellsburg, Washington Co., IN Had two children:
John W. Murphy, born 1871 in
James B. Murphy, born 1875

If this is the Lewis or Louis P. Miller who married Emily Rickard then we have:

Emily Jane Rickard, born April 21, 1856 in Salem
father, Isaac Jasper Rickard
mother, Jane Colvin
She is listed as marrying Louis P. Miller on November 14, 1872

The other Emily C. Rickard married a man by the name of Commodore Butler Wyatt and she was born about 1850 also in possibly Polk Township, Washington Co., IN father, Simeon B. Rickard mother, Sarah Elrod
Emily and the Commodore had 2 children listed
Edna Wyatt, born 1872
Cora Wyatt, born 1874

Perhaps the other possibility was that after Lewis died, Emma married a Kepley???? And so in the family history she was known as Emma Kepley????? Need to ask Helen if she might know.

Old Blue River Cemetery records: (Lot 21, Grave 4)

Emily Jane Miller, born April 21, 1856, died Aug. 19, 1928; daughter of Isaac and Emily Colvin Richard; wife of Lewis P. Miller.

Noting that she was buried under the name of Miller, do not understand why the "Kepley" name.

Notes

1870 Census of Jackson Township, Washington County, IN lists Leonard and Barbara living with Barbara's mother Margaret and they also had one son.

Margaret Simpson.....	50.....	born Indiana.....	born 1820
Leonard.....	27.....	born Indiana.....	born 1843
Barbara C.....	16.....	born Indiana.....	born 1854
Andrew A.....	1.....	born Indiana.....	born 1869

1880 Census of Jackson Township, Washington County, IN, 430 B

Leonard J. Miller.....	married.....	male, white, 37.....	born IN.....	Farmer.....	1843
Both parents born in Prussia
Barbara C. Miller.....	wife.....	female, white, 26.....	born IN.....	Housekeeping.....	1854
Both parents born in IN

Andrew A. Miller.....	son.....	male, white, 11.....	born IN.....	School.....	1869
Maria A. Miller.....	daughter.....	female, white, 8.....	born IN.....	School.....	1872
Francis M. Miller.....	son.....	male, white, 4.....	born IN.....		1876
Louie B. Miller.....	daughter.....	female, white, 1.....	born IN.....		1879

Note in the census above that the children were mostly called by their middle name in family records.

Andrew was called "Addison"

Maria was called "Alice"

Francis was called "Marion"

At this point I am leaving the names as written in the family files, but noting that their official names were different and birth records and certificates would probably give these names rather than the names we have known them by.

1890 Census of Jackson Township, Washington Co., IN House # 92, Family #92

Leonard Miller.....	52.....	born IN.....	head of house.....	1848
Barbara C. Miller.....	46.....	born IN.....	wife.....	1854
